UNHAPPY MARRIED LIFE

Rev. Dr. P. Presley Barrett Accepts an Ohio Pastorate at a Smaller Salary. Police Justice Scores Police for Arrest of Sailors for Money.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., August 16.-Henry E. Carpenter, a street car conductor, employed on the Lambert's Point division of the Norfolk Railway and Light Company, shot his wife and then killed him-self this morning.

The couple had been unhappy in their marital relations for some time, and a short while ago, Mrs. Carpenler left her husband and secured a position.

Recently, Carpenter has been drinking rather heavily, and it is rumored that he had threatened his wife's life unless she returned to him. He seemed to be very despondent over the loss of her affection and society, and had threatened openly to kill himself, unless has family troubles were settled soon.

openly to kill himself, unless as faintly troubles were settled soon.

THE SHOOTING.

This morning, as Mrs. Carpenter, who lives on the same street with her husband, and in a house only about 150 feet from the place where he boarded, was on her way to take the car to go to her work, Carpenter emerged from his boarding house, and, it is said, without a word fired at her.

The shot took effect in the shoulder, and as the man saw his wife reel from the impact of the bullet, he was appartently convinced that he had accomplished his purpose. He then turned the pistol on himself, inflicting a wound in the head, from which he expired in about an hour. Mrs. Carpenter will likely recover.

FOR LESS MONEY.

Rev. Dr. J. Presley Barrett, pastor of the Memorial Christian Temple, this city, has resigned to accept the pastorate of the Christian Church at Covington, O., at a smaller salary. The Rev. C. J. Jones, a former pastor of the Temple, now of New Bedford, Massy, is spoken of as a successor to Dr. Barrett, and Rev. J. O. Atkinson, of Elon College, N. C., is also mentioned in this connection.

BLOOD MONEY.

Police Justice Taylor to-day, gave out a very strong deliverance on the promiscuous practice of Norfalk policemen arresting drunken sailors for blood money. He announced that he has his eye on several officers and will take the matter up with the Mayor.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BRISTOL, VA., Aug. 10.—A pretty girl aged about nineteen years came to Bristol on a late train from the east and stopped at the Bristol Inn Hotel, Saturday night. She sent out and bought costly clothing. Sunday morning she asked to buy clothing from other guests and also some gold-trimmed spectacles, for which she paid a high price.

At non Sunday she called Proprietor Burke's daughter to her room and gave her some papers and said: "Take them down to the kitchen and burn them in the cooking stove; money is no object to me."

Miss Burkengave the papers to her father, who opened them and found two rallroad season tickets from Birmingham to Wytheville, to Mrs. Salle N. Barney, also valuable recepts at Mobile to Mrs. Barney. The girl took other guests carriding in the parks in the afternoon, Mr. Burke gave Chief-of-Police Kilgore the papers, who took charge of the girl and locked her up. She had a pocketbook containing sold and silver currency, two certified checks on the Lienkauf Banking Co., of Mobile, for $50 each, rayable to Mrs. Barney, also visiting cards of Mrs. Barney, also visiting cards of Mrs. Barney and hotel card at Wytheville. When arrested she said her name was lad Kent and told nothing more.

The chief of police of Wytheville was notified and wired to hold lad Kent for robbing summer hotel guests. It was found she had been in Bristol before at nother hotel. She stole silk dresses, other apparrel and $50 in money. She was identified as 1da Richardson and taken to Wytheville.

Oinwiddle Crops,

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WILSONS, V.A., Aug. 10.—The most of the crops in this section have been laid by and are looking well. Mucn of the to-bacco has been topped and most of the primings saved. Some few of the farmers saved primings last year and received good prices for them, and that has encouraged most of them to save them this year, it is thought that all grades of tobacco will sell well this year.

Watermelons and cantaloupes are scarcer in this section this years. The people in this neighborhood are generally very successful raising melons, but they seem to have made a failure this year. A few small ones have been brought to this place and sold for twenty-five cents each.

Mr. Richard Warren had his right hand cut off a few days ago while working at the edging saw at Mr. Benn Cobb's sawmill a few miles north of this place.

CHURCHVIEW, VA. Aug. 10.—A very delightful house party is in progress this week in Middlesex, at "Edgewood. the home of Judge A. B. Evans, given by Judge and Mrs. Evans in honor of their granddaughter, Miss Emma Dew Segar. The guests are Misses Ruth Tuner, of Emporla; Eva and Leila Butler, of Baltimore; Mercer Crutchfield, of Fredericks-burg; Virginia McCandlish and Sallye Segar, of Middleseffi; Messrs, W. D. Evans, Leslie C. Garnett, of Mathews; V. S. Weaver, C. S. Ficklin, C. B. Hrown, F. S. McCandlish and A. C. Smith.
Judge Evans and his wife are true types of the old Virginia host and hostess and the hospitality of their home rivals that of ante-bellum days. The young people enjoy themselves, tennis, croquet, flinch, dancing, hay rides and moonlight excursions on the Rappahannock being some of the pleasures chiefly indulged in.

Well-Known Teamster Has His Arm Broken in Runaway-Negro Killed at Reams Station Believed to Be from Blanford-Notes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, VA., August 10.—It is sald that many ladies in Petersburg suffered severely from the recent deprecia tion in the stock of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company. These ladies, many of them widows having money to invest withdrew it in many instances from the investments in which they were places and bought Virginia-Carolina Chemical stock. In addition to these there are many persons in Petersburg who have dealt in this stock on the market and have lost heavily as a result.

Mr. James Cogle, the well known teamster in this city, had his arm broken accident this morning. His horses tool fright and was running down Sycamore Street, and, to avoid colliding with an-other vehicle, Mr. Cogle attempted to turn into Courthouse Avenue and the turn into Courthouse Avenue and the wagon was dashed against the telegraph pole oposite the Index-Appeal office. Mr. Cogle was thrown to the street and his right arm so badly broken that the bones were protruding through the skin. He was attended by Drs. Gamble and R. H. Jones. The wagon was broken, but the horse was not injured.

Connections of Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western Give New Life. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LEXINGTON, VA., August 10.—Glasgow, Rockbridge county, which was laid oft at the juncture of North and James Rivers during the "boom" days ten years ago, is now enjoying a season of prosperity in railroad circles. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad has built a belt line, connecting with the Norfolk and Western at Glasgow, and both roads use the same line to Buena. Vista, the Norfolk and Western. The Chesapeake and Ohio has now abandoned its line from Balcony Falls to Buena Vista. They have also transferred their yard and system of switches to Glasgow, where greater accommodations are enjoyed.

In line with the improvement, the Norfolk and Western have changed the location of their depot, and the Chesapeake and Ohio is erecting a large 60,000 gallon tank, a steam elevator and a coal bin. A part of the "Jack McBryde" farm, on Hays Creek, Rockbridge county, including the large man-don house and 122 acres, has been sold by Messrs. P. M. Penick, F. T. Glasgow and G. D. Letcher, commissioners of the Circuit Court. The purchaser was Miss Lillian McBryde, and the price pald was $4,000.

Munyon's CHESTERF'LD MONUMENT

The Unveiling Did Not Come Off as Expected.

ADHERE TO ORIGINAL DATE

The Committee Found that the People Had Set Their Hearts on a Great Outpouring September Second, and Decided to Postpone.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHESTERFIBLD, VA., August 10.—The Confederate monument here was not unveiled to-day, as was generally thought this morning would be the case. The determination was reached after a long discussion brought about by a strong sentiment against having the unveiling take place to-day, which became manifest early this morning, as soon as the crowd began to assemble. The second of September, as heretofore published in The Times-Dispatch, was fixed upon several months ago by the Monument Executive Committee as the day when this ceremony was to take place, and this fact was generally understood throughout the county. As was expected, it became evident to-day that people from all over the county had their hearts set to be in attendance at that time. The news of the purpose of the committee to have the unveiling take place to-day had not spread generally, and, therefore, with the arrival of each man coming from a distance, who was to learn for the first time to-day of the intention of the committee, there would go up a wail of complaint at thought of the loved ones and friends at home who would be disappointed in missing the unveiling ceremony.

EXECUTIVE MEETING.

The Executive Committee just after the dinner hour held a meting in the courthouse in presence of a room full of interested listeners, and considered what was best to be done under the circumstances. A vote was taken on the motion of Captain William A. Blenkenship for the Executive Committee of the Monument Association to turn over today to the William B. Wooldridge Camp of Confederate Veterans, which was holding a meeting here to-day, the monument
as it stood, with request that they unveil the monument to-day or at such time as in their discretion they thought best. The vote showed the committee to be evenly divided, free voting for the motion and five against is; the deciding vote was cast
by the chairman in favor of the motion and the time of the william B. Wooldridge Camp. Upon the adjournment of the Monument

called upon to speak to-day.

DISAPPOINTMENT.

There was much disappointment (elt to-day because of the change of plans, as despite the short notice, there was a crowd of several hundred people on the courthouse green this afternoon, 2 greet many ladies and children being in the company. Those who favored having all ceremony in connection with the monument concluded to-day, while regresting the action of the camp in postponing the unveiling, submitted quietly to that decision, but they realize that to carry out the plans on foot for the second of next month, including the entertainment of the many visitors who are expected, will mean a great burden and sacrificer for some.

The misunderstanding to-day is greatly deplored, but we hope the pleasure to be experienced in September will fully compensate those who went away to-day with feelings of regret and disappointment.

Murrell took some photographs of several of the best of the orchards and heavily loaded trees; also of some fine landscape views characteristic of this beautiful region. These are for the scenic display, which Virginia will have at St. Louis.

At Rural Retreat, in Wythe county, he got some photos of cabbage fields and several hundred wagons loaded with cabbages waiting at the station for trains. This place is 2,500 feet above sea livel, and is the great cabbage section of the South. The soil suits that vegetable well, and at this high altitude the insect pests do not count for much.
